DEBATE WITH UNIVERSITY OF MAINE.

The time draws near when Loyola will enter upon another debating season. On November 14th, a team from the University of Maine and a Loyola team composed of Albert Shepherd and another man as yet unchosen will debate here in our Auditorium. The subject will "Resolved that the United States and Canada should have a Customs Union". and the Maine team will uphold the affirmative. This is a challenge match, and promises to be very interesting for several reasons. We know from previous years what sterling performance we can expect from Ab Shepherd, and we all know what we can expect from his partner, who will be a true Loyola man and a representative Loyola debater. Then, too the friendly international rivalry will add much to this meeting.

We all remember with pride how, last year, Shepherd and Joly, Hutchinson and Kennelly, in the name of Loyola, forged first thru Bishop's and Ottawa, and then thru McMaster, to win the Inter-University Debating League Championship for us. It is interesting to recall at this time that, in eight years of the functioning of the league, Loyola has won second place eleven times, and has six times won the Championship. Three of these have been successive wins in the last three years.

COMING GAMES (cont'd)

football match this afternoon since the Blue and White squad are definitely out to avenging a stinging defeat, while Loyola is determined to maintain its football supremacy.

Gerald Johnson, Loyola '33, who was graduated with honors last June, has just won a Canadian Government Scholarship to McGill. He has entered the Department of Metallurgy.

BISHOP'S MEET LOYOLA AGAIN

This afternoon the Blue and White squad of Lennoxville will endeavour cure Loyola's football supremacy on our Campus. If Wednesday's game is any indication of the playing qualities of our team, the Bishop boys will indeed have a difficult time to defeat us.

To see a team come up from the losing end of a score of 11-0 to tie and nearly overcome a McGill squad is to see a real game of football. It shows that a heavier team cannot overcome or send to ignominious defeat a team that cooperates and plays such a fine exhibition of football, as Loyola did on Wednesday.

On Saturday Bishop's will meet a full strength team since Ben Veilleux, who showed his fine football ability by kicking the ball away from behind his touchline with only a few seconds to spare before the McGill squad was on him, is back in the game after an early season injury. Thus Bishop's will meet a much more powerful team than they did on their Lennoxville campus. Asselin's fine catching, which he effectively demonstrated on Wednesday by making sure catches of a ball heavy and soggy with mud and water, will be a powerful factor for the team's coming encounter.

Acting-Captain Dick Pare, who scored our two touchdowns against the Red and White outfit, will be an ominous threat with his heavy plunging abilities. Costigan and Murphy will again show what disastrous results Loyola's end runs can do against an opponent team. "Tiger" Shore promises to be the best snap that Loyola has seen in many, many years. He can certainly handle a ball anywhere, whether on a dry or wet field. Not only is he a good snap but no man can get through "Tiger". Loyola's stalwart defenders seemed, after the last game to be Alducin and Tingle.

We'll see a real (Next Column.)

AD MAJOREM DEI GLORIAM.

THE REIGN OF TERROR.

What a favored generation this is - or is it? What a chance the youth of today has of learning history - from experience, as it were! The younger element is getting a bird's-eye view of events that some day may disrupt the world. Yes, sir, history is in the making.

If experience means anything, we should profit by the lesson taught during those dreadful years 1914-1918. Approximately 25,000,000 human beings were effaced from the earth. But at a time when mankind should strive to ensure world peace for the future, we find it preparing for hostilities and arming to the teeth. The blast is set; the powder is ready, and only the spark remains unspoken. Who will ignite it and plunge the world into a sanguinary abyss is the problem of the day.

Then the Herr Fuhrer, scathed and bold, Il Duce, from beyond the Alps, bearing the Eagles Escutcheon, meet amid a clattering throng, their mutual envy and hatred peep forth, camouflaged beneath a deceitful handshake. "United we stand" is their password, but it is about as credible as the coming of Christmas in July. It is against reason to think that two greedy men, both striving for supremacy, will each continue to help his adversary to the same end.

The mighty Roman Empire fell; so, inevitably, will the Third Reich. We know that Napoleon is now nothing but a bust, and that Wilhelm the armoured Kaiser is a German fugitive and exile in Holland. Hitler's fate - which will probably be worse - is sealed; it is only a matter of time. Right now he is riding high on the wheel of fortune; but the wheel is spinning so quickly that he'll be thrown off in a tangential direction. Will he land in the abode of Satan? What a welcome He'd get there!

COLLEGE DIARY.

Well, Loyola, "S" is back in the headlines again. You will admit that to be able to replace my predecessor successfully is not an easy assignment; but with time and your good will, it may be that S' column will go on being something to make you laugh when you feel like crying, and will cheer you up when you are downhearted. Anyway, I start with a bang - or is it?

"Did you know that this year on the Flat they have a Freshman? Yes, a verdant youth by the name of Bob Meldon."

For the information of those who were not at the Bishop game, two words or more: Chet Sutton, Gentleman of Senior Class as you all know, had the time of his life. So he told me. What is the matter, Chet? Is Sherbrooke so lively, or is it your happy disposition? -- Billy Murphy.... Ah, yes, what a lad he is! Did you ask me what he did? To shorten a long story, he followed Chet... From now on, friends, I think that "Tak" Thomas is the Don Juan of Senior Class. That smile of his left a lot of broken hearts in the fair city of Sherbrooke. I was wondering why Claude Genest's mail had dropped so suddenly.

Last Monday one of the Juniors, by name Roy Thoms, learned in a way that he will never forget that at the Debating Society Mr. Chairman is quite sufficient. Mr. Thoms ("a gracious boy, full of all gentleness, of calmest hope, of sweet and quiet joy; there was the look of heaven upon his face, which listeners give to the beloved disciple") proceeded thus: "Mr. Chairman, Father Moderator, worthy Opponents, Mr. Secretary, honorable colleague, ladies and gentlemen..." It was very impressive, but we Seniors know exactly what was going to happen, - and it did.

Could a certain examination in Logic be the ultimate cause of the nickname "Conductor" which is now associated with a very bright lad of Junior by the name of Ben Veilleux?

It was remarkable, last Saturday, to see all the Old Boys present for the MacDonald-Loyola game. With their help we would not need to have a raffle. May I ask a simple question: Does the Alumni consist of the '37 and '38 Graduates, or does it go back farther than that.

So - until the next time?

Sodality Notes (cont'd. from page 3)

A spiritual offering is to be taken up shortly for Mission Sunday. Kevin Kierans will distribute forms, which all Sodality members should fill in generously.

A series of posters is being prepared for the Poor Committee.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES

Paul Brennan: Senior High Coach, and Loyola Grad of '37. The Senior High Team was in poor shape when Paul took it in hand this year. Paul, who had been the starry quarterback of the famous Loyola team of '36, has through his past experience whipped the team into fine shape, and it looks as if Loyola High will once more see championship laurels.

Mr. Ed Sheridan, S.J., ably assists Paul in coaching the Senior Team. Mr. Sheridan, a Loyola Grad of '34, also has been a member of famous Loyola Teams.

John Brayley: Junior High Coach, and High School Grad of '37. Last year John took the Junior team in hand and brought them to the semi-finals of the League.

Ronald MacDonald: Junior assistant coach, has put in a lot of time helping to get the Junior team into shape. Ronnie hails from Fort Covington, N.Y.

Mr. John Grimes, S.J.: coach of Loyola's smallest and mightiest team, the Bantams. This is Mr. Grimes' third year as Bantam coach, and although they are in no special league, they take on all opponents.

INTRA-MURAL GAMES

On Friday the fourteenth the starry First High "B" squad slaughtered the First "A" aggregation by the score of 13-0. Corcoran and Shaughnessy were the men who went over the line.

Again on Monday the First "B" Team conquered their other major rivals, First High "C" by a close score of 7-6. These boys from First "B" will make a strong bid for the shield.

On the same day, Fourth High proved to be the conquerors of Third High "B". The Chemists fell under the onslaught of the to the tune of 10-0. Fourth seem to have the upper hand over the 3rd B lads. It was a hard fought game.

Two 3rd A - 3rd B battles have been called off since the last edition - one on Friday, the other this past Thursday. Everybody is looking forward to a forthcoming 3rd A - 3rd B encounter.

Next week there is another list of good games to be played.

BANTAMS.

The spell of "Loyola" weather we had on Wednesday reduced Bantam activities to nil. They were to have played the "All Stars"; the game was called on account of rain. All news failing, I should like to correct the idea of any who look on the Bantams as a team that practices once or twice, plays a few games and ends the season with a banquet. On the contrary; they represent the School as much as any other team. They may not win a championship or a gold medal; still they carry Loyola's colors and deserve all the support we can give them.

K. B. S. NOTES.

This week D. Conn, Secretary-treasurer of the K.B.S., read the minutes; R. Limoges proposed that they be accepted, and R. Meagher seconded the motion.

Next P. Tansey spoke on "The attitude of the K.B.S. towards Mission Sunday." He expressed the wish that each member make a special effort to put an extra dime or so on the collection plate next Sunday, and also offer up a spiritual bouquet for the missionaries all over the world. The next speaker was "Red" Seasons who spoke on "How to keep the K.B.S. organization together." "This is done", he explained, "by your daily visits to the Blessed Sacrament and your weekly Communions."

Roderick Dungan, head of the Mission Committee, remarked that each year the Pope dedicates a special Sunday to the Missions. On that Sunday, all the collections in every Catholic church all over the world are sent to the missionaries to enable them to carry on their zealous work of saving souls.

The Drive for Stamps began last Tuesday. Each person bringing in at least ten thousand stamps will be allowed to draw for a beautiful pair of book-ends. There will also be a box of chocolates raffled off in the class collecting the most stamps. To qualify, however, for this latter raffle, one must bring in 2,000 stamps or more.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS.

By Messrs. Woods and Wickham.

Jerry Castonguay, "demon of the grid-iron", with his sensational dashes, set many female hearts a-flutter....Bernie "Spotless" McCallum is quite an authority on all clubs..Hugh Braceland is still searching for Margo....Many inquiries were made as to the floating apparition on Sunday. It was Pete Shaughnessy on the kick-off....After a long search your writers have discovered a poet in Fourth High - one Jake Warren...Tom Davis has gone back to the bush for unknown reasons. The best of hunting, Don Juan.

SODALITY NEWS.

Plans for the coming week were discussed at the Executive meeting of the High School Sodality last Thursday. The efforts of the Sodality during the next ten days will be concentrated on a campaign for stamps.

The campaign will be under the direction of David Sutherland, who is in charge of the Stamp Committee. Posters are needed to help out the campaign, which will also include two raffles. All those bringing in at least 1,000 stamps may take part in the raffle for a box of chocolates.

LOYOLA-13---MACDONALD-0.

With Cardin and Murphy leading the way, Loyola trounced the Aggies with little difficulty. Although all the scoring was done in the first half, the Maroon-White had a decided edge all during the game. The outstanding feature of the game was the sensational running of Cardin and Murphy, while the plunging of Pare stood out. Cardin made Loyola's first touch. The second touch came when MacDougall snared Asselin's long forward pass to go over standing up. Asselin was responsible for the rest of the points, booting well all afternoon.

LOYOLA-11---MCGILL-11.

The Fighting Irish showed their mettle last Wednesday against McGill when, on a muddy gridiron, they spotted McGill points in the first quarter and then came back to practically wipe McGill off the field.

Eleven points down, the Maroons fought their heads off for the remainder of the game, making yards consistently and outplaying McGill handily. Pare was responsible for the two Loyola touchdowns, playing a heads-up game all afternoon, and being the most consistent ground-gainer on the field. The two kickers, Asselin and Veilleux, did a good job kicking the heavy ball, while Asselin as safety man stood out for his flawless catching of the soggy pigskin. Loyola's first touch came in the last minutes of the first half and climaxed a down-field march of the Maroon squad. The extra point was not awarded although McGill were off-side twice.

The second touch came as a result of the Maroon wall-break - ing through and blocking a McGill kick. Cardin scooped the ball up and ran to the 4-yard line. From here, Dick Pare plunged across. Asselin's boot was good and the game was tied 11 - 11.

Loyola kept dominating but could not get over the winning point. The last moments of the game brought a sensational McGill rally. Asselin made a great attempt and managed to carry a McGill kick to the Loyola 3 yard line. From here Loyola kicked out of danger and the most thrilling game witnessed this season came to a close with the score still Loyola 11, McGill 11.

LOYOLA JUNIORS LEAD C.H.S.

Sunday last, Loyola Juniors defeated Catholic High School 11-2

Catholic High opened the scoring in the first quarter with a safety touch, Johnny Greco making the tackle. Loyola did not waste time in overcoming Catholic High lead when Johnny McDougall went over for a touch on an end run. A pass to Langan gave us the convert. In the fourth quarter McDougall intercepted a Catholic High forward pass, and again made a touchdown. His touchdown was unconverted.

LOYOLA LOSES TO MCGEE.

Loyola High School Seniors met their first defeat last Sunday when they lost to D'Arcy McGee 6-0

During the first quarter, no score was made, both teams fighting hard. In the second quarter, Loyola fumbled the ball on their own 15 yard line and Bob Mulvany went over for McGee's touchdown. Hodgson converted.

In the last half the ball was almost always deep in McGee's territory, but the Maroon and White couldn't score.

The game was hard-fought from the start to the finish. For Loyola, Jerry Castonguay played an outstanding game, his drive and fight helping his team tremendously.

ST. LEO'S 6, LOYOLA SENIOR 1.

On Wednesday last, at the Westmount grounds, Loyola Seniors lost to St. Leo's 6-1 on a muddy and soggy field.

Loyola opened the scoring with a rouge, in the second quarter. From then to the last quarter there was no scoring, both teams keeping each other in check.

In the last quarter, St. Leo's kicked a point, making the score now stand 1-1. Then, in the last minute of the game, Loyola fumbled. Doug Maher of St. Leo's snatched the ball and ran over for a touch which was unconverted.
